DESCRIBE THE PRESENT AND ORIGINAL (If known) PHYSICAL APPEARANCE

The McDonald house dates from about 1860. It is a large, rambling, frame structure with a complex plan. The house is in a delapidated condition and the owner plans to tear it down.

The exterior has several prominent features: a square tower in Italianate style has a hipped roof. The eaves are decorated with gracefully curved brackets, and several bay windows project from the walls. The kitchen, with its massive exterior chimney, and a low loft above may be much older than the house.

The interior details are "Victorian": heavy plaster cornices, and ornate medallions, an arched mantel decorated with a shield and another topped with a ceiling height mirror.

The carriage house and stable standing near the house also date from the 1860's. They are sheathed in vertical board and battern. Each has a front gable.

The house appears on the 1878 map of the county as owned by Richard Claytor. A Mrs. Rogers appears on the 1860 map.
